FOR PRESIDENT,

BENJAMIN HARRISON OF INDIANA.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT

LEVI P. MORTON,
OF NEW YORK

Probably no candidate for the Presidency has ever been called to do the amount of response to popular demand which has fallen to the lot of General Benjamin Harrison, of Indiana. The outburst of enthusiasm and sentiment in his favor has been something remarkable, and he has been kept busy in the matter of acknowledging courtesies from people who have crowded into his native State to pay compliments to him. The history of politics bears no parallel to the demonstrative enthusiasm which has gone out to him. And it is encouraging to know that down in the recesses of the public heart there is this evidence of appreciation of what the country needs. General Harrison represents principles which are of vital moment to the people of this country, and it is because he is the exponent of these principles that such a wave of sentiment has gone out to him. It is the measure, not the man, and it shows a wholesome attitude on the part of the people.

Senator Vest, of Missouri, wrote in his private letter:

Mr. Cleveland by his message, for which I honor him, has challenged the protected industries of the country to a fight of extermination. The fight is to the death.

The other eminent Democrat, Lord Sackville-West, wrote in his private letter:

You are probably aware that any political party which openly favored the mother country at the present moment would lose popularity, and the party in power is fully aware of this fact. The party is, I believe, still desirous of maintaining friendly relations with Great Britain and is still as desirous of settling all questions with Canada. There is every reason to believe that Mr. Cleveland will manifest a spirit of conciliation in dealing with the [fishery] question.

No one will question the authority of these two prominent Democrats to speak for the two great principles of the party—free trade and England's interests.

The Charleston (S. C.) News and Courier (Dem.) says:

With an abundance of money in the party treasury the National Democracy will certainly elect their candidates. Without an abundant supply of money for campaign purposes the Democratic candidates will be in serious danger of defeat.

The Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution (Dem.) also says:

There are two facts we would like to impress on our readers. One is that the Democratic Campaign Committee is not by any means sure of success; another is that the success of the party would be reasonably assured if the committee were provided with the money necessary to carry on the campaign as it should be carried on.

This constant howling of the Democratic newspapers and committees for money is getting a little tiresome. Where is that wonderful popularity of Cleveland that was going to carry him through all the States triumphantly? Has it faded out so soon, and is there no hope left but boodle?

The first effect of reducing the tariff below the protective point would be felt in shops and factories. In such establishments wages and expenses would be reduced so that they could turn out cheap goods and compete with Europe. The reduction of shop and factory wages would react against the entire city and town population at once. Lawyers, doctors, shopkeepers, traders, clerks, bookkeepers, city, county, and State officials and employees, school teachers, policemen, firemen etc.—millions who now think themselves non-protected—would be compelled to accept reduced compensation. The blow would fall first on the wage-earners in farms and factories, but its force would be felt quickly throughout the entire city and town population of the country.

A Democratic voter in St Joseph, Mo., became involved in a dispute the other day with a Republican woman, and in the excitement of the discussion the gestures of the woman became so emphatic as to knock the voter down. Truth is mighty, and sometimes prevails even in Missouri.

IRREDEEMABLE FREE TRADE PROMISES.

The free trade attorneys are profuse with promises of benefits to follow adoption of their pet policy. Among others they give especial prominence to the assertion, that when our tariff is abolished, the trade of this country will reach into all those foreign markets whose trade is worth looking after.

Leaving aside the question of cheap production, which cannot be brought about without seriously affecting the price of the labor involved, there is another obstacle which advocates of the British policy seem to ignore, that is the tariff regulations of foreign nations—for it must be remembered that most of them, equally with the United States, have found it advisable to protect their citizens against the competition of rival producers. Within the present year Germany has raised the tariff on foreign wheat to a point which practically excludes the American article from competition with the products of the German farms. She is quite as likely to protect her other industries by an increase of existing duties, whenever there seems necessity for so doing. It is to just this policy on the part of intelligent nations of defending their own labor and capital, increasing with each year, that a recent Committee of Parliament referred as the chief cause of depression in British trade.

Mr. Henry Fawcett, M. P., a free trade writer, in his work on "Free Trade and Protection," asserts that "The tariffs of almost every European country, since 1877, have all become more protective, including Germany, Austria, Russia, Italy, Spain, Portugal, and Greece." During the present year, Sweden and New Zealand have been added to the list of nations once supposed to be England with manufactured articles a price "cheaper than they could be made at home," but which have been found quite too dear for all that.

England thus finds the market of the world growing smaller for her, and according to recent reports, nearly a million of her workmen who have depended on other nations for consumers of the products of English manufactures, are now idle. The markets thus closed to England, in spite of her diplomacy and less reputable exertions, are not likely to be opened to the United States without concessions in prices of our products to which our workmen not and will not consent.

The only market we can certainly control is our own, and this, from the fact of being the best in the world, should be most jealously guarded against encroachments in the interest of foreign rivals. If outside markets really offered the rich reward that free trade advocates hold up before the eyes of American voters, it is quite safe to conclude that those foreigners in whose interest free trade is urged would be less persistent in their efforts to get a hold upon the trade of this country.

The fact is—and it is a fact which Republicans cannot too gratefully acknowledge—that no feature of their campaign has been more hopeful and inspiring than General Harrison's speeches. Lucid, manly, sensible, acute, invariably dignified, and rising to genuine and unaffected eloquence when the theme and the surroundings were such as to touch his own heart and the hearts of those before him, they have set the issues of the campaign in the pure, white light of truth. But they have done even more than this—they have served to reveal the man. In the last weeks of the struggle which means so much to him, to his party and to the country, he stands before the people without fear and without reproach, wise, steadfast, forceful—and a gentleman.

In his speech at Council Bluffs, Thursday, Senator Allison, the Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, called the attention of his hearers, some of whom might have been bamboozled by the Democratic claims of economy, to the fact that the last three years of Democratic rule had cost $103,000,000 more than three years of President Arthur. The Postoffice Department has cost $18,000,000 a year more, and its administration had been marked by the grossest slovenliness and laziness and an utter disregard of the convenience of the people.

We hear of a "prominent colored man" in Columbus, O., who has "come out for Cleveland and Thurman," but "prefers not to give his name." It is gratifying to note that he has not entirely lost his sense of shame along with his political manhood.

If General Harrison wears so well as a candidate, will he not wear equally well as a President? The logic of the case says he will. We have to take a good many things on faith. Our faith on this point is strong.

It is daily more and more apparent that the contest this year is between Harrison and Protection and Cleveland and Free Trade. Any vote for any third party will be simply thrown away.

MR. BLAINE'S CHICAGO RECEPTION.

The Chicago Tribune says: The reception of Mr. Blaine Saturday evening at Battery D and the adjoining Cavalry Armory, and in the streets en route from his hotel to the place of meeting, was a brilliant and most extraordinary demonstration as well as a personal tribute such as no other man in the United States could hope to receive. It marked the close of his Western campaign trip not only with such an enthusiastic welcome as bespeaks the admiration and warm personal regard of the people of Chicago for him, but with such a demonstration as in all likelihood will not be matched in the future, either in spontaneity or dimensions, and thus marks the crowning point of his political career.

The reception was one any man, however high in rank, might well be proud. The two largest halls in the city, each capable of holding from 7,000 to 8,000 people, were crammed to the doors. Michigan avenue, south to the reviewing stand, and the cross streets west to State street were solidly packed with those who failed to secure admission. The street parade large as it was, would have been still larger had it not been that so many marching Republicans knew if they took part in it they would lose all opportunity for getting into either hall. The desire to see Mr. Blaine overcome the desire to appear in the parade. No other man in this country could have called out, on a cold, north wind night, such a vast, overwhelming, irrepressible, enthusiastic multitude, filled with but one idea—that of expressing its admiration and personal regard for the great exponent and defender of American institutions and ideas—and held tens of thousands of men in that chilly air in front of his hotel till nearly midnight.

Mr. Blaine's speech was worthy of the occasion. It was the close of his Western trip. Heretofore he has devoted himself to some one topic, such as the surplus or the tariff. Saturday evening he summed up tersely, vigorously, and incisively the various failures of the Democratic Administration to redeem its pledges. It was an indictment every count of which was clearly sustained by irrefragable evidence. It was framed with all the circumstantiality and directness of a legal document. It bristled with facts and figures, and was addressed to the reason rather than to the emotions of his audience. It gave his hearers something to take home and reflect upon, to read over again the next day and think about. It was not a stump speech, but a strong, calm, logical statement addressed to thinking men, and as such formed a fitting close to his Western campaign.

The indictment was in six counts. The President's failure to reform the civil service is so apparent that the speaker hardly needed to dwell upon it. A few pertinent instances, known to every one, settled that question. In the matter of the fisheries he was equally concise. Addressing a meeting called under the auspices of the veterans, he naturally dwelt more at length upon the President's vetoes of pensions and his abuse of the veto privilege, closing with the pungent sentence: "I submit that the framers of the Constitution never intended to make the President a third legislative power with a vote that could override both the others." The injustice to Dakota was set forth in terms of glowing indignation, and the animus of the Democratic party in preventing her admission was pressed home with vigor. The strongest count in the indictment was the arraignment of the Administration for designingly enlarging the surplus and then employing it as a loan to favorite banks without interest, discriminating in its deposit in favor of those localities where it would be for the benefit of the political interests of the Administration. Lastly he arraigned the Administration for its deliberate attempt to destroy the protective system of the country and to precipitate the ruin of American industry by the adoption of undisguised free trade. Mr. Blaine did not dwell upon the tariff question at any length. His already exhaustive discussion of it rendered it unnecessary. He has touched upon all of its features during his trip and probably will have more to say upon it before he reaches Boston; but in this connection it is due to him to say, what hitherto has not been said, and what our readers may not have observed, that in not one of his speeches since he landed in New York has he made any allusion to the McKinley-Kelley plank in the platform, with its unlimited protection and contingent destruction of the internal revenue, showing plainly enough that he does not believe it represents the views of the Republican party, that it was an error to incorporate it in the platform, and that it does not have his sanction.

Whether Mr. Blaine shall appear in another Presidential campaign or not, he has received the highest honor that can be conferred upon an American citizen in the enthusiastic demonstrations that have attended him upon this trip, and among them all not one has exceeded the Chicago reception. A higher or prouder tribute no man could desire.

EDMUNDS FOR HARRISON.
He Gives Thirteen Reasons Why He Should Be Elected.

New York, October 31st.—Senator Edmunds has addressed an open letter to Dana, the editor of the Sun, answering the insinuations that he (Edmunds) is not actively engaged in promoting Harrison's campaign. He gives thirteen reasons why Harrison should be elected. Among these are his personal character, record as a Union soldier, and his position on the tariff. Edmunds scores Cleveland severely. He also says he has been, ever since the nomination of Harrison, "most earnestly, and according to my strength and capacity, actively in favor of his election."

Mr. Thurman gives up Ohio. He is wisely giving up the States gradually, so as not to have so many to give up in a bunch on the night of election.

BEFORE IT IS BORN.

Some Startling Statements of General Interest.

Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes, on being asked when the training of a child should begin, replied, "A hundred years before it is born."

Are we to infer from this that this generation is responsible for the condition of the race a hundred years from now?

Is this wonderful generation the natural result of the proper diet and medicines of a hundred years ago?

It is conceded in other lands that most of the wonderful discoveries of the world in this century have come from this country. Our ancestors were reared in log cabins, and suffered hardships and trials.

But they lived and enjoyed health to a ripe old age. The women of those days would endure hardships without apparent fatigue that would startle those of the present age.

Why was it? One of the proprietors of the popular remedy known as Warner's safe cure, has been faithfully investigating the cause, and has called to his aid scientists as well as medical men, impressing upon them the fact that there cannot be an effect without a cause. This investigation disclosed the fact that in the olden times simple remedies were administered compounded of herbs and roots, which were gathered and stored in the lofts of the log cabins, and when sickness came on, these remedies from nature's laboratory were used with the best effects.

What were these remedies? What were they used for? After untiring and diligent search they have obtained the formulas so generally used for various disorders.

Now the question is, how will the olden time preparations affect the people of this age, who have been treated, under modern medical schools and codes, with poisonous and injurious drugs. This test has been carefully pursued, until they are convinced that the preparations they now call Warner's Log Cabin remedies are what our much abused systems require.

Among them is what is known as Warner's Log Cabin sarsaparilla, and they frankly announce that they do not consider the sarsaparilla of so much value in itself as it is in the combination of the various ingredients which together work marvelously upon the system. They also have preparations for other diseases, such as "Warner's Log Cabin cough and consumption remedy," "Log Cabin hops and buchu remedy," "Warner's Log Cabin hair tonic." They have great confidence that they have a cure for the common disease of catarrh, which they give the name of "Log Cabin rose cream." Also a "Log Cabin plaster," which they are confident will supplant all others, and a liver pill, to be used separately or in connection with the other remedies.

We hope that the public will not be disappointed in these remedies, but will reap a benefit from the investigations, and that the proprietors will not be embarrassed in their introduction by dealers trying to substitute remedies that have been so familiar to the shelves of our druggists. This line of remedies will be used instead of others. Insist upon your druggist getting them for you if he hasn't them yet in stock, and we feel confident that these new remedies will receive approbation at our reader's hands, as the founders have used every care in their preparation.

Orders for Christmas trees are already being received in Maine.

The Reno friends of James Clark, of Eiko, will be stricken with sorrow at the sad news of the death of his wife on Tuesday. Mrs. Clark was a most estimable woman and wife.

On account of sickness the JOURNAL reporter was not able to hear Cassidy last night, but he had a good audience, and entertained them for two hours. Judge Senwell was also on hand and addressed the people briefly.

A. H. Manning and wife celebrated their anniversary last evening, and the occasion was a delightful one for the party of friends that congratulated them, and wished them as many more in the future.

The eldest daughter of the late Ed. Dalton has followed her father, and from the same disease. She was sixteen years old. Three others of the children are also sick. Dr. Thoma says they must be removed from the house in which they live, as it is a perfect death trap, on account of an old and bad sewer.

S. J. HODGKINSON, Secretary.

BACK FROM ENGLAND.—J. A. Blossom, of Battle Mountain, has returned from London, where he went on mining business. He made two important sales of mines to the Britishers.

The Perfection
Of the age in the medical line is the liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs, manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Company, San Francisco, California. It is agreeable to the taste, acceptable to the stomach, harmless in its nature, painless yet prompt and thorough in its action. Sold by Wm. F. Piniger, Reno.

A WARNING.
The modes of death's approach are various, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the Throat and Lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone, without exception, receives vast numbers of Tubercle Germs into the system and where these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and it allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the lungs, producing Consumption and to the end, causing Catarrh. Now all this is dangerous and if allowed to proceed will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness; allowing a cold to go without attention is dangerous and may cost you your life. As soon as you feel that something is wrong with your Throat, Lungs or Nose, obtain a bottle of Bochee's German Syrup. It will give you immediate relief.

THE PONY AND THE BULL.

Nevada Becoming Famous for Range Stories.

An adventure in the stock ranges in Nevada is described in the Philadelphia Call which reads well. For its accuracy the JOURNAL is not responsible:

I rode once with some cattle buyers through the stock ranges of Nevada. My pony—it was called Bob—had drifted into Nevada, Utah, and was known as a buffalo hunter. Bob was as mean looking as a sheared sheep, and as bullet-headed as a political opponent. However, Bob and I got along very well the first day of our acquaintance; got along, in fact, about fifty Nevada miles, which I have carefully estimated to be equal to sixty-five Christian miles.

The next day Bob was tired, or cross, or bored. He regarded the wastes of sagebrush disdainfully, and lunched off the sagebrush while I threaded my whip upon him, and wore out my spurs on his shaggy sides. Then I led him a few miles, and he regarded me in big-eyed meditation. When I remounted, which I did only when my shoes were worn out, Bob appeared so broken up that I felt sorry. I determined to go no further that day than the ranch house that we were approaching, for I did not want Bob's life charged to my cruelty. Just before we reached the house a herd of cattle reached us. I may say reached for us. A big bull, the biggest and wildest I remember ever to have seen, selected us for a target.

Considering Bob's condition, I was about to dismount and take my chance, when Bob started. I believe he thought he was entered for the Derby. You never saw such a remarkable rate of speed attained by such a remarkable gait. Bob would alternately roll himself up into ball and stretch out to three times his normal length; his head would go out of sight into his shoulders, and then go out of sight in the distance. Suddenly Bob stopped—very suddenly—so suddenly that it unseated my dignity and pose. Looking about I discovered the cause to be that the bull had stopped. Just as suddenly as the bull began charging the other way, and Bob—that fool of a Bob—began charging the bull. If the bull had been a peck or two Bob could not have displayed more earnestness in the chase.

Between my anxiety lest Bob should catch the bull, and not know what to do with it, and my uncertainty as to my seat, I was very unhappy. Bob, however, appeared to be having a real good time. The chase was kept up for miles, and until the bull suddenly stopped short, and swung his big-horned head around at Bob and me as we came along. Bob dodged beautifully, and then the bull chased us awhile. The thing was kept up for hours. If the bull wouldn't chase us, Bob would chase the bull; it was all the same to him—just as much fun for one as for another. I reckon we chased each other—Bob and the bull and I—about fifty miles, when we happened upon a little oasis and Bob and the bull began browsing the unexpected grass together in the most friendly manner. I excused myself and walked back to the ranch.

THE WOODS FULL OF THEM.

A Writer Tries the Letter Scheme on the Mexican Minister.

New York, October 31.—The woods are full of Muchosons. The World publishes another dispatch from Washington, in which it says: On the first of June last Senator Don Marcos Romero, the Mexican Minister to the United States, received from F. D. P. Gonzalez, an alleged citizen of San Diego, Texas, a letter asking for his opinion as to which of the two parties existing in the United States would be most favorable to Texas. This information the Mexican Minister's correspondent alleged he needed in order to advise the citizens of the United States of Mexican descent as to how their votes should be cast in the coming election.

The remarkable similarity between the Marchison letter and that of Mr. Gonzalez stamps them undoubtedly as work of the same intriguing hand.

When Minister Romero received the letter he read it through with the greatest care. He is a diplomat by instinct and long training, and he did not fall into the trap set for him. The remarkable appositeness of his reply will be fully appreciated. He read his correspondent a lesson which Minister West might well have learned from him. The following is the principle sentence in the letter, which was quite short:

As a foreigner, and above all, as the representative of a nation friendly to the United States, I have no right to express my opinion with regard to the political parties existing here, especially when the opinion might be taken as a basis for exercising any influence in the most important act of a citizen—the election of his magistrates.

Gentleman George's.

Curiosity drew a large number of people to the Court-house last Saturday night to hear Cassidy sing his little song. When a man acquires sufficient egotism to run for Congress he becomes a curio, and people will go for miles to see what he is like. Gentleman George spoke to the people for a couple of hours about the horrors of protection and the beauties of free trade, and he eulogized Cleveland's administration, which is eminently proper, as the Bank Commissioner receives $5,000 a year from that Administration. But George forgot to tell us how it is that he is drawing this fat salary for slumping the State for his party. Perhaps electioneering is part of the duty imposed by the President upon the Bank Commissioner. What has become of civil service reform?—Walker Lake Bulletin.

NEW YORK IS ALL RIGHT.

It is Figured Out to Be Safe for Harrison.

New York, October 31.—Already at the National Democratic headquarters it was being figured out that Hill would carry this State by a majority very much larger than Cleveland could hope to get. Sanguine cipherers, who claimed 5,000 majority for Cleveland, were willing to concede 10,000, 15,000 and even 20,00 to Hill. Making the very smallest reasonable allowance for their partisanship, those figures really mean that there is no hope for Cleveland in this State, although there may be a little for Hill. In other words, the State is sure for Harrison, whatever the gubernatorial result. As the Democrats cannot spare the electoral vote of New York, those who read this paragraph may take assurance that, at the close of the last week but one of the campaign, the battle is won for protection.

The earnestness of the canvass by business men can best be appreciated during a tour of the wholesale mercantile section of the city. Ordinary business is put aside by hundreds of our leading merchants and politics taken up. Saturday brings a half holiday, according to recent usage in these counting-rooms, but how the magnets of trade keep at it until clear up to the actual end of the week. Their desks are laden with printed tariff arguments, which they mail to their correspondents everywhere, while their type-writers are kept clicking off individual opinions and affairs. Never before has a political canvass enlisted the services of these men. There is nothing on the Democratic side to offset this solid and potential influence.

England's Candidate.

Waiving all questions about the propriety or object of the British Minister's letter, or the design of his alleged correspondent in questioning him, the fact stands out like a National political Pharus that the British Government desires the re-election of President Cleveland, because his policy, if elected, would be more favorable to British interests than would be the policy of a Republican President and a Republican Administration. This is the testimony of the British Minister, the representative of British interests. That it was privately given enhances its value, because it was his true belief and not a diplomatic opinion. No matter about the motives or parties that evoked this truth. It is a monumental and National testimony to the great Democratic fact that the policy of President Cleveland and the success of the Democratic party are considered by the ruling classes in Great Britain as the most favorable to British interests. It is now, therefore, the pro-English party and policy against the American party and American interests.

A DEMOCRATIC PROPERTY.

The Philadelphia "Times" on the Consequence of Free Trade in Congress.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 10th.—The Philadelphia Times is supporting the free trade men of the President and the Mills bill, and yet in a leading editorial Nov. 21, just before the assembling of the present Congress, it said:

"Speaker Carlisle twice packed the House Committee on Ways and Means on the interest of free trade—that is tariff on a free trade basis—and he thus made tariff revision or revenue reform impossible. Had not the Morrison horizontal tomfoolery been defeated in the Winter of 1893, Mr. Cleveland would not have carried a single Northern State; and if Speaker Carlisle shall put the blatant free trader at the head of the Ways and Means in the next House, with a committee in sympathy with its Chairman, President Cleveland and his party will be in a hopeless minority in the House from the day the committees are announced, and New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Indiana will surely be Republican in 1898, with the Virginia, Tennessee, North Carolina and Louisiana doubtful and chances largely in favor of the Republicans."

Loved Them Both.

High-spirited wife—Jerome, I will not put up with your shameful conduct any longer. If you do not reform I shall leave you. You must choose between your wife and whiskey.

Husband (brokenly)—Julia, I can't do it, I shays m' life. I love y' both too well!

Close Enough.

"They are working on a new telescope," observed De Smith, "that will bring the moon within sixty miles of the earth."

"If the moon is really made of old cheese," remarked De Smith, "that's close enough."

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. (Ad. 21-12-94 C.T.)

250 Beautiful Lots For Sale!

A RARE CHANCE FOR INVESTMENT AND A HOME

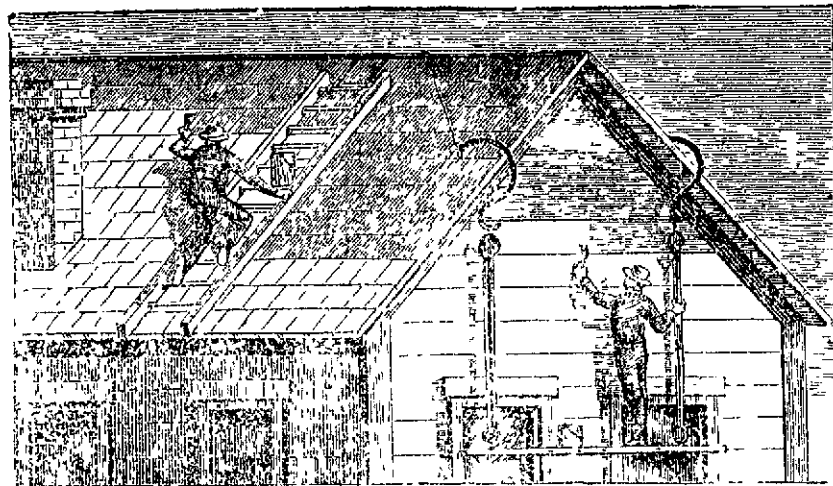

THE MOST LOVELY PORTION OF RENO.

Facing the Truckee—The Aristocratic Riverside Avenue Driveway—Splendid Sewerage—Healthy Location and Safe From Fire.

The proprietor is now ready to receive proposals for lots in Powning's Addition. The map gives a good idea of the Tract, which is situated between the Central Pacific Railroad and the Truckee River, and commences on the west at a point three blocks distant from Virginia Street, making it the most central and convenient of any portion of the rapidly growing town of Reno. Unlike any other part of the town this Addition faces the beautiful Truckee River and Riverside Avenue is certain to become the fashionable driveway of the country. The streets are 80 feet wide, while Riverside and Keystone Avenues are intended to be 100 feet in width. All alleys are 20 feet wide. The soil is a rich gravelly loam, and susceptible of the highest state of cultivation. Being situated as it is it is more safe from fire than any other section. The regular lots are 50x140 feet. The sewerage is perfect.

Before Buying Elsewhere Parties will do Well to Look at These Lots.

SUMMONS.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE STATE of Nevada, in and for the county of Washoe. The State of Nevada sends to Isaac Weston, a citizen of Nevada, to appear in an action commenced against you as defendant by Orlando Evans as plaintiff, in the District Court of the District of the State of Nevada, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this summons—exclusive of the day of service—served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said district and in all other cases forty days; or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. The said action is brought to recover from you the sum of three hundred and fifty dollars in the gold coins of the United States, for money had and received by defendant to the use and benefit of plaintiff and belonging to plaintiff, demanded by plaintiff of defendant, to pay which or any part thereof defendant has heretofore failed and refused to pay, and still does fail and refuse to pay, together with interest thereon from date of judgment until paid at ten per cent per annum and for costs of suit, all of which will more fully appear from the complaint which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court, at Reno, in said county. And you are further notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiff will take judgment for the said amount besides interest and costs of suit. In testimony whereof I, T. V. Julien, have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court this 11th day of January, 1887. T. V. JULIEN, Clerk of the District Court of Nevada, in and for Washoe county.

PLATFORM AND RESOLUTIONS.

The Republicans of the State of Nevada in convention assembled again express their loyalty to the principles of the Republican party, which have made the country so great and prosperous during the last quarter of a century.

Resolved, That the question of a sufficient supply of a circulating medium to maintain a permanent range of the price of labor and property is the most important political question awaiting solution by the American people.

Resolved, That a diminishing quantity of money reduces the price of labor and property increases the obligation of contract, enriches the creditor, impoverishes the debtor, and paralyzes industry and enterprise.

Resolved, That the present financial system of the United States, which increases or diminishes the circulating medium at the pleasure of the manipulators of the National bank, without regard to the increase of population or the wants of the people, and which recognizes gold alone as the standard of value, and places in the hands of the Treasury Department all the revenue of the Government to speculate with in bonds and loan to National banks without interest, is subversive of the rights of the people oppressive, unjust, and should be repudiated.

Resolved, That a financial policy whereby both gold and silver shall form the basis of circulation, whether the money used by the people be coin, or in certificates redeemable in coin, or both, as convenience may require, is imperatively demanded.

Resolved, That the attempt to substitute National bank notes, costing the Government millions of dollars annually, for free silver, costing nothing, is an outrage upon the people; that the money ring or trust which has usurped the sovereign power of the Government to issue money, and which has fraudulently demonetized silver and seized the revenues of the Government for private speculation, shocks the moral sense of the people and destroys a respect for Government and law. We demand that this ring or trust be destroyed and equal rights restored to all people.

Resolved, That we charge that President Cleveland is the willing tool or agent of a powerful money ring which fattens the subsidies of the Government, makes war on silver, issues its paper currency at the expense of the Government, it borrows the revenues raised by taxation, and uses them without the payment of interest, contracts the currency to enhance the value of bonds, and enriches the money ring while it depresses the price of labor and property.

Resolved, That we favor the nomination of honest President who will personally interpose a veto in National banks or the bonded indebtedness of the United States, but we demand a candidate who is true to duty to all the people of the country—the poor as well as the rich.

Resolved, That the trickery of the President and his advisers by which they prevented a vote in the House of Representatives, and the moral sense of the people and destroy a respect for Government and law. We demand that this ring or trust be destroyed and equal rights restored to all people.

Resolved, That we are in favor of the protection of home industry, and that the laborers of this country have a right to all the work required to supply the people of the United States, and that we are in favor of high wages in this country, and to that end will protect the wage-workers competition with the cheap labor of other lands.

Resolved, That the policy of the Government should be inaugurated and established by the people through their representatives in both Houses of Congress, and not by the President or the money trust, of which he, either as agent or head, is most active in defending.

Resolved, That we charge President Cleveland with violating every promise he made in favor of civil service reform, with crippling the mail services, with running up the necessary bills for the improvement of the coast and harbors with using the power of a Navy and coast defense, with attempting to destroy the protective tariff, with curtailing the good will of other nations at the expense of the citizens of the United States, and with joining the foreign bondholders to demonetize silver and destroy the industries of our country, and for the reduction of wages of the Mint employees at Carson for closing the Carson Mint when it was not only self sustaining but a source of revenue to the Government, for its contemptuous veto of pension bills for the relief of disabled soldiers and sailors, and for failing to construct the Government building at Carson as required.

We are in favor of the absolute exclusion of Chinese, and the restriction of immigration, by which the present overcharged condition of the labor market is made worse, and also favor legislation by which a revision of our naturalization and land laws may be accomplished.

We demand, in behalf of our various industries the retention of the duties on lead, borax soda, hides and leather, and to restore the tariff of 1867 on wool.

Resolved, That we recognize the right of labor to organize for its lawful protection.

Resolved, That we favor the submission by the Legislature to the people of an amendment to the Constitution giving the Legislature the power to regulate the liquor traffic.

We favor liberal appropriations by Congress for hydrographical and topographical surveys in this State to the end that the waste waters may be preserved for the purpose of irrigation.

We endorse the wise and conservative administration of Governor O. Stevenson, and we heartily commend the able efforts of Senators Stewart and Jones and Representative Woodburn in behalf of the interests of the people of this State.

We favor the granting to Nevada of all Government land within the State for the purpose of providing means for irrigation and other improvements.

We favor the reduction of the Treasury surplus by the payment of pensions to Union soldiers, their widows and orphans, the improvement of rivers and harbors, the building of dikes for our sea-coasts, the erecting of public buildings, the creation of a navy, the release of bonds and the repeal of the internal revenue laws taxing tobacco.

It is the duty of the State to maintain free non-sectarian schools in the rural and sparsely settled districts as well as in towns and thickly settled sections, and that such a division of the school money should be made as will turn the means of education to all children in the State.

We are in favor of reopening the Carson Mint for coinage, and raising the wages of its employees to the standard paid by the last Republican Administration.

We demand the restoration of the mail service in this State to the efficiency maintained by the last Republican Administration, and favor the payment of fair wages to all postal employees.

PLATFORM

The Republicans of Washoe, proud of the past and hopeful for the future, heartily endorse the platform and nominees of the National Republican Convention, as adopted at Chicago, and the Republican State Convention at Winnemucca, and pledge a resolute majority for Harrison and Morton and Protection, and Murphy and Bartine and the ticket nominated by the Convention. We demand legislation from both Government and State in regard to irrigation, and for the improvement of our natural water ways, as well as for the storage of water, which the Republicans demand of this State can be improved to their fullest capacity. We demand the most rigid economy in State and county affairs, and the establishment of the State's expenses upon such a basis as will secure good government at the lowest rate of taxation. We in aim that state of seventy-five cents should be and is sufficient to provide revenue for the State Government.
